

HANNAH ENGLAND

WANTS TO WORK WITH YOU!

ABOUT

I have always been a creative person, which is why I entered the graphic design field after college. But my creativity reaches beyond that of the visual arts. I'm able to think up novel ideas to solve odd problems and find the right words to communicate solutions effectively. I like analyzing information and figuring out how to make things work better, making me a great candidate for jobs that involve organization and deep thinking.
